FOREWORD

Documentation of annual reports is not merely a bureaucratic tradition—it is a vital instrument of institutional accountability, strategic reflection, and informed decision-making. Through the annual report, organisations systematically capture and communicate their operations, financial conditions, and developmental strides. For universities and other knowledge-driven institutions, such reports serve as critical platforms to showcase achievements, highlight challenges, and reinforce transparency and trust among stakeholders. They offer both an internal compass and an external mirror—tracking progress toward strategic goals while projecting the institution’s image and impact to the broader public.

It is therefore with great pleasure that I present the 2023 Annual Report of the University, which provides a clear and comprehensive summary of key events, activities, and developments recorded during the year under review. The report is carefully structured to acquaint readers with the history of the University, its Statutory Bodies, Administrative Departments and Units, Faculties, Academic Departments, Schools, Directorates and Library Services. It highlights the University’s sustained efforts to enhance the quality of teaching and research, as well as its strategic collaborations, linkages, and partnerships with institutions and organisations across the globe.

This report also showcases the University’s commitment to staff development, illustrated through the award of fellowships for higher degrees and sponsorships for participation in local and international conferences and training programmes.

The year 2023 witnessed several milestones, including the commencement of Postgraduate programmes in the School of Postgraduate Studies, organising and successful hosting of international conferences, workshops and a public lecture, successful handing over of leadership to the newly appointed Principal officers and visits by notable dignitaries and stakeholders.

Infrastructural development remained a key focus, with several projects successfully executed and commissioned during the year. Despite the challenges and disruptions which impacted infrastructure and slowed operations, the University continued on its path of growth and development. The progress documented in this report was made possible by the unwavering support and sustained funding from the State Government and interventionist agencies of the Federal Government, notably TETFund, NITDA, NiMet and the Federal Ministry of Education.

In conclusion, I wish to express our profound appreciation to our Visitor, His Excellency Mallam Umar A. Namadi, fca, the University Governing Council, Senate, Management, staff, and students for their steadfast commitment and support throughout the year. We also extend our sincere gratitude to the State Executive Council, members of the State House of Assembly, and Local Government Council Chairmen for their continuous support.

Special thanks go to the Executive Secretaries of the NUC and TETFund, the Registrar of JAMB and the Director-General of NiMet, our host communities, all relevant stakeholders, and the general public for their invaluable support and cooperation.

Together, we continue to advance the mission and vision of the University towards excellence.

Prof. Umar Ali

Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academics)

PREAMBLE

The 2023 Annual Report has a total of ten (10) chapters. For easy elucidation, the chapters were categorised into sections and sub-sections based on the nature, type and volume of the input most of which were accompanied by complementing photos to make it reader-friendly.

Chapter One introduces the document to the reader, highlighting the historical background of the University, its Philosophy, Mission, Vision and Strategic Objectives. It also contained detailed composition of the statutory bodies of the University: the Governing Council, the Senate, the Congregation and Convocation.

In Chapter Two, an account of the Administrative Departments and Units in the University was given, including their functions and staff strength. It also accounts for the activities of the University Library Services, its branches, four (4) units, staffing and collections strength.

Chapter Three provided details of the six (6) faculties, the twenty five (25) departments, the thirty five (35) programmes and the three (3) schools of the University, including their objectives, functions, staff strength and the activities undertaken. It also accounts for the summary of staff granted study fellowship and those sponsored to attend conferences and workshops. Chapter Four covers the University's efforts in the area of staff development and training across the cadres. It gives details on the staff granted study fellowship and those sponsored for professional trainings in addition to those that attended workshops and conferences in Nigeria and abroad during the year. Chapter Five highlights the University's strides in achieving its vision of being a top-class University renowned for excellent academic and research activities through collaborations, linkages and partnerships with relevant institutions and organisations world-wide.

Chapter Six showcases some major events that took place within the period, such as the 9th matriculation ceremony, the 10th Congregation Meeting, ANAN's Courtesy Visit, Department of Economics Maiden Public Lecture, etc with photographs to add glamour. It also deals with the relationship between the University and host communities, tagged Town and Gown, and how the relationship has been cordial and mutually beneficial through felicitations, obituaries and condolences.

Chapter Seven documents students' statistics, highlights the Students' Support Services, including those being provided by the University Clinic, the Shuttle Bus Services Committee and the Students' Affairs Division. The activities of the Students' Week comprising the Musabaqa Competition, Sports Competition, cultural shows and musical performances were also captured in the Chapter.

Chapter Eight gives an insight into the Capital and Physical Projects executed during the year. It also provides an overview of the Finances of the University for the year, including the analysis of Receipts and Payments for 2022 and 2023 Financial Years.

Chapter Nine gives an account of the TETFund Interventions on Physical Infrastructure, Academic Staff Training and Development, Institutional Based Research and Conference Attendance.

Chapter Ten, which completes the document, highlights the modest achievements recorded in the University for the year, the challenges faced and the prospects for its growth and development.
